

HERRSTEIN 28.03 - 17.04

A photograph of a street scene in Herrstein, featuring traditional half-timbered houses and a stone tower in the background. The houses are built with light-colored plaster and dark timber framing. The central house has a dark roof with several dormer windows. To the left, a stone tower with a conical roof is visible. In the foreground, there is a stone well and a silver car parked on the cobblestone street. The sky is clear and blue.
